INTRODUCTION

INAMSC (Indonesian International (Bio)Medical Students' Congress) 2021 is a cluster of scientific events that is part of Liga Medika 2021 comprising scientific competitions and symposium-workshop. The event is going to be held online on Saturday – Sunday, June 19th-20th 2021. INAMSC is open for both national and international participants and offers a great opportunity to enrich knowledge, broaden networks, and improve scientific skills. This year, INAMSC brings "Respiratory Disease" as its main theme. Hopefully, we could raise awareness on Respiratory Disease prevention, diagnosis, and management. The scientific competitions held in INAMSC 2021 consist of:

1. Research Paper and Poster - for national and international participants
2. Literature Review - for national and international participants
3. Public Poster - only for national participants
4. Educational Video - only for national participants

This guideline is made for those who have passed to the semifinal and final round. Semifinal and final round of INAMSC Liga Medika 2021 will be held online via zoom. There might be several changes from the previous guideline. Regulations that are not written in this guideline might be discussed in the Technical Meeting. Please do not read the registration and competition parts of the guideline only, since there is other information you will need in other parts of the guideline.

BONDING SESSION

1. Games

Come and join us for our game session and get ready to have some fun! This event will be full of fresh and hilarious games you don't want to miss. So come on in, prepare yourself for bursts of serotonin, because it's time to play!

2. Table Session

Join us in our table session to get to know your fellow delegates! Special in Liga Medika, we have provided a BINGO template filled with entertaining questions you can ask your new friends! Who knows, maybe you'll find friendships that will last a lifetime!

SEMI-WEBINAR-TALKSHOW

During this pandemic situation, COVID-19 has taken the spotlight in many hospitals and healthcare facilities. But what of other respiratory diseases? Tuberculosis is one of the respiratory diseases that has a high prevalence in Indonesia. And on a global scale, Indonesia is one of thirteen countries that has the triple-burden of tuberculosis. To explore the situation of neglected respiratory disease, particularly tuberculosis, we invite you to our semi-webinar-talk show with guests from national tuberculosis organizations and expert doctors on Saturday, 12th of June 2021.

VLOG & VIRTUAL CITY TOUR

Intrigued by tourist attractions in Jakarta? Come and visit some of the leading places in Jakarta with us. Don't worry, even though the COVID-19 pandemic is still hitting us, we will still be able to enjoy the excitement in every location, online. Apart from visiting virtually, together we will explore facts and information about each place, and also play some games that trigger laughter, curiosity in solving mysteries, and also the closeness between 2021 Liga Medika participants.

INAMSC

Not only traveling around Jakarta, Vlog and Virtual City Tour are here to introduce participants to FKUI. Come and join us in exploring the white building of FKUI Salemba!

SYMPOSIUM & WORKSHOP

INAMSC Symposium and Workshop are offering you the opportunity to enrich your knowledge around Covid-19 and its latest updates through interactive sessions with the experts in our symposium and workshop. This year's theme is "INSPIRE – Insight and Updates on Respiratory Disease: COVID-19"

INAMSC

RESEARCH PAPER AND POSTER

Research paper and poster (RPP) competition is an original research paper competition intended for young researchers from health and/or biomedical science-related fields. Appreciating the importance of research as the fundamental aspect of medical development, RPP competition is held to facilitate young researchers to present their research and to exchange knowledge with other participants.

GENERAL INFORMATION

This competition consists of three phases:

- Phase 1: Preliminary round (abstract selection)

It is not compulsory for participants of RPP to submit abstracts with topics relevant to the theme of Liga Medika 2021. However, abstracts must have topics associated with fields related to medicine and/or health sciences. Submitted abstracts will be clustered into one of three existing clusters, which are as follows:

- Biomedical Research Cluster

Biomedical Research cluster consists of research about basic biomedical science, such as anatomical and physiological interpretations, experimental research involving the non-human subjects, as well as innovation in biomolecular research.

- Clinical Research Cluster

Clinical Research cluster comprises research in the clinical setting, such as clinical diagnosis, management, as well as an intervention on the patient subjects.

- Epidemiology and Public Health Research Cluster

Epidemiology and Public Health Research cluster encompasses research in fields of epidemiology and public health, such as epidemiological study, community-based assessment, or non-clinical assessment on patient subjects.

Afterward, submitted abstracts will be assessed by a team of experts in their respective clusters. Selected abstracts will be considered qualified to proceed to the semifinal round.

INAMSC

- Phase 2: Semifinal round (poster competition)

All teams will present their posters in their respective clusters. Semifinalists should present their paper in the form of the poster presentation to the judges. All semi finalists will present their poster via online presentation in the form of pre-recorded video. The committee will randomize the order of presentation. There will be six teams chosen for the final round.

- Phase 3: Final round (oral competition)

During the final round, six teams will be allowed to present their papers in the form of a pre-recorded video of the powerpoint (PPT) presentation. The committee will randomize the order of presentation. Three winners of the RPP competition will be announced at the end of this event.

GENERAL RULES

1. Each team registering for RPP competition consists of 2-5 individual participants from the same university under health and/or biomedical science-related majors, including pre-clinical and clinical students. This competition is only applicable to those who have not received their medical doctor degree.
2. Each participant can only be the first author in one INAMSC competition with maximum participation in two different competitions in INAMSC.
3. Each participant can only submit and commit to one abstract in the RPP competition.
4. Semifinalists of the RPP competition are participants who have passed the preliminary round.
5. Finalists of the RPP competition are participants who have passed the semifinal round.
6. Only participants with an active academic status and have completed all registration requirements are allowed to join the semifinal and final presentation.
7. First author of the team proceeding to semifinal and final round must attend the online semifinal and final round of INAMSC 2021. Additionally, attending teams must consist of at least two authors, if there is only one author present the team would receive zero points on "teamwork" score.

INAMSC

8. Semifinal round posters and final round PowerPoint presentations must not contain the name and logo(s) of the authors' university or institution. Any persisting identity of the authors' university or institution will be covered and omitted by the committee.
9. During semifinal and final presentation, all participants must wear formal attire and must not wear the alma-mater jacket and/or blazer.
10. The submitted research must be original work and has not been published in any journals or presented in any competition, conference and/or events. Any form of plagiarism is not tolerable.
11. Violation of any of the rules will result in immediate disqualification.

SEMIFINAL ROUND (POSTER SESSION)

Semifinal round will be a poster presentation session. Each team must give a presentation using an e-poster in the form of a pre-recorded video that must be submitted on 10th June 2021. The following are the rules for the poster presentation round.

LITERATURE REVIEW COMPETITION

INTRODUCTION

Literature review competition is an international competition of evaluative reports of information found in the literature conducted by the Faculty of Medicine, Universitas Indonesia. In accordance with “Respiratory disease” as the main theme for Liga Medika 2021, INAMSC Literature Review Competition 2021 focuses on the following themes:

1. Updates on risk factors and pathological mechanisms of respiratory diseases
2. Recent updates on the respiratory disease of diagnosis, prognosis, prevention, and rehabilitation
3. Biomolecular and biogenetic approach in treating respiratory diseases
4. Herbal medicine as a potential respiratory disease therapy
5. Evaluation of health care systems to reduce transmission of respiratory diseases

GENERAL RULES

1. Semifinalists of Literature Review Competition are participants who have passed the preliminary round
2. All semifinalists must follow the rules written in the guideline
3. Only participants with active academic status and who have finished all registration requirements are allowed to join semifinal and final presentations.
4. During the presentation, all participants must wear formal attire (no T-shirt) and must not wear an alma-mater jacket. Participants have to bring their alma-mater jackets to be used at the winner announcement.
5. The committee of INAMSC 2021 has the right to publish all semifinalists' abstracts in the online portal/website of INAMSC 2021.
6. The logo(s) and name of the authors' university have to be omitted from the semifinal poster and final oral presentation. Any identity of the authors' university, if visible in the poster, will be covered or eliminated by the committees.

INAMSC

- At least two authors of the team proceeding to the semifinal and final round must attend the semifinal and final round of INAMSC 2021 via online. If there is only one author who attends the competition, the team would receive zero point for “teamwork” scoring.
